LIEUT. SCHWATKA DEAD.

The Famous Arctic Explorer Ends a Brilliant Career in a Portland Gutter.

Train Robber Sontag Sentenced to Life Imprisonment—An Averted Strike.

Checkered Career of a German Editor.—Loss of a Lake Vessel.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2.—About 3 o'clock this morning Lieut. Frederick Schwatka, the famous Arctic explorer, was picked up on First street, between Yamhill and Morrison streets, in an unconscious condition. Beside him lay a bottle of laudanum. A patrol wagon was called and he was removed to the police station, where he died soon after. It is probably a case of suicide.

Lieut. Schwatka was a very heavy drinker, and ruined a magnificent physique by his devotion to the cup. His contributions to scientific knowledge in the department of Arctic exploration are of the highest value. He leaves considerable property. His niece, Miss Schwatka, is one of Portland's leading society women and a noted beauty.

A Desperado Hanged.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 2.—Nothing but executive clemency can save Frank Van Loon from expiating on the gallows before sunset to-day one of the most remarkable series of tragedies ever committed in the state of Ohio. As is usual in such cases, enormous pressure has been brought to bear, both upon Gov. McKinley and through the courts, to save the condemned man. The case is a remarkable one in many ways, and not least so in the foolhardy daring of the criminal and his subsequent escape. It was on the morning of August 8th, 1891, that a man entered the hardware store of J. M. Crawford in Columbus, Ohio, and purchased a couple of revolvers. As the stranger left the store he said in an explanatory way, "I am going to be a second Jesse James; I am going to paint the town red," and forthwith he began to verify his statement, for no sooner were the words out of his mouth than he poked his pistols into Crawford's face. The latter dropped behind the counter, and Van Loon, without further molesting him, left the store and entered the Exchange Bank next door. Here he shot and seriously wounded Adam Seyfert, a depositor, T. J. Mapel, the cashier, and Simon McComb, a teamster, and was just about to leave the building without any booty when he met William Vandermark, an aged farmer who kept an account at the bank. He thereupon added Vandermark to the list of his victims, this time shoting with fatal effect. Having thus disposed of all opposition, and terrified the little town generally by his fusillade, he proceeded to pocket some fifteen hundred dollars in bills and fled for the woods. During his retreat he terrified everyone he met with his firearms, which he displayed on the slightest provocation. It was not until after the lapse of several months, and after an innocent man had been arrested, identified as the murderer and narrowly escaped lynching, that the crime was fixed upon Van Loon. The latter has maintained his innocence from the first, and this morning as he sat in his cell within easy hearing distance of the carpenters who were erecting the scaffold, he said that the day would come when his memory would be vindicated.

Very Coolly Done.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 2.—A clever train robbery was reported last night on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railway, some miles north of Anniston. The south bound express train stopped at the tank just below Piedmont and the robbers got aboard. They went into the express car and Messenger K. B. Rogers promptly gave up $705. The mail agent was equally accommodating and gave up a number of registered packages. The robbers then pulled the bell cord and the train slowed down and they jumped off, disappearing in the woods. There were two robbers, both masked. A posse is in pursuit.

Chose the Broad Road.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Charles Howes, 28, a civil engineer, who for 18 months past has swindled banks and hotels all over the country by forged drafts, was arrested yesterday and locked up at police headquarters. He confessed his guilt to Inspector McLaughlin. Howes is also known as C. A. Field and John B. Hall. He graduated as a civil engineer at an institute at Seattle two years ago. He married a girl graduate of the same institution. After his marriage he went into the real estate business at Gray's Harbor, Wash., and made some money. This he gambled away in Denver, Col., and Kansas City.

Wrecked on the Lakes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Reports have reached Chicago that a large white steamer has been wrecked off Manitou Island. It is now believed that the vessel is the W. H. Gilcher, the sister boat of the Western Reserve, which was lost several weeks ago. She passed the straits the afternoon of the big storm on the lake, bound for Milwaukee. She has not been reported there by the port officials, but may have made some other port.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 2.—Rumors that the big steamer W. H. Gilchrist had been lost off Manitou Island in Lake Michigan are confirmed by her owner, J. H. Gilchrist, who has given her up. The crew consisted of 17 men, all of whom probably perished. The vessel was valued at $200,000.

Sontag and Evans.

FRESNO, Cala., Nov. 2.—The outcome of the Sontag trial does not seem to have stimulated detectives and officials to make another attempt to capture the train robbers. It was stated here as a positive fact that Evans was in Sanger on Friday evening last and spent part of the night there. The person who gave this information is a police officer, and though he would not say who told him, he asserted that it came from a reliable source.

George Sontag, convicted of complicity in the Collis train robbery, was to-day sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Holmes. Attorney Coldwell immediately gave notice of appeal.

The Roumania's Wreck.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Only 21 bodies have been recovered from the wreck of the steamer Roumania. It is believed the remainder were carried out to sea.

HALTED ON THE LINE.

Chinese Laborers Refused Admission to the United States.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash, Nov. 2.—The Northern Pacific China steamer Zambesi arrived here last night with 39 Chinese aboard, all armed with certificates which admit them into this country. In compliance with the law the Chinamen were put through a rigid examination and their certificates closely examined by the collector and deputies. Thirty out of the 39 were refused admittance after examination. Most of those refused admission were laborers.

FOLLOWING THE SMALLPOX.

Evidence Taken at Vancouver—Government Duplicity Condemned.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2.—Before the Royal Commission yesterday the evidence was chiefly in connection with the case of smallpox aboard the Empress of Japan in the April and June trips. It was shown that Charlie, Chinese customs inspector, probably contracted the disease from examining the baggage of the Chinese at the boat, and afterwards brought to Vancouver by the Islander. Ling Hok, a New York Chinese merchant was in the second saloon in the April trip, and was not put ashore but came into Vancouver. He and Charlie were sick at the same time and secreted themselves at Point Gray.

Mr. Kito Japanese consul, stated that the Japanese who took sick on July 8 came by the Empress of Japan in June and was aboard when the case was discovered among the Chinese awaiting transhipment to Portland. The Japs went to Portland, but were refused a landing under the alien labor law and came back by rail, then by Sound boats to Victoria, and the Yosemite to Vancouver. This morning Inspector Huntley testified that the rash was noticeable upon the Jap's face on the Yosemite and consequently in the Sound steamers. Huntley's evidence mentioned all the cases in the city, and for only two of these he could not assign a cause. One, a bootblack, and the other Dockendorff, who worked in a law office. The first outbreak was from the April trip. In July there were more cases. Stickles, he said, got the disease in Victoria, also McDonald and Nichols, who landed first in New Westminster.

The evidence given by Drs. Robertson and Langis favored the general porvincial health regulations rather than the local by-laws. They favored the dividing all the province into districts and appointing provincial health officers.

The Board of Trade last night passed a resolution petitioning the Local Government and the C.P.R. to do something towards bringing trade up Slocan by way of Nakusp thence to Revelstoke and to the coast, as now it tends to go by way of Kaslo down Kootenai Lake to the American cities. The Government was scored for not building a road from Nakusp to New Denver, where they gave the purchasers of New Denver townsite to understand they were going to do so by calling for tenders.

A Checkered Career.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A strange story is that of Ernest Voss, embezzler and exile, who was buried yesterday from 211 Garden street, Hoboken, where he lived and was known as P. F. Ernest Mosse. Dr. Mosse, as he was called, was found dead in his bed last Sunday. He had lived at Hoboken since last April, moving there from Harlem, and becoming editor of the "Bellestristeche" Journal the office of which is at No. 20 Hudson Place. He was a finely educated man, but somehow or other it leaked out that Mosse was an assumed name and then he represented himself as being Baron Von Buelow, but still wished to keep his former name. Ernest Voss was a director in a savings bank at Werlen, Germany, until 1884, when it was discovered that within a year he had embezzled two million marks. Instead of being prosecuted he was incarcerated in a lunatic asylum. He escaped and it was believed that he had committed suicide. Eight years ago he came to the United States and in June last was recognized by one Rubel, a German, who mentioned the fact in a letter to friends in Werden. The German Government instituted inquiries, and deputy marshal Bernhard, while looking for Voss learned that he was dead. His physician and the family with whom he boarded recognized his photograph. The fugitive embezzler died in destitute circumstances.

Cheated the Gallows.

SACRAMENTO, Cala., Nov. 2.—J. D. Smith, under sentence of imprisonment for life for the murder of Robert Allen, a year and a half ago, and who has been in the county jail pending the appeal of his case, died yesterday. Allen was treasurer of the Jockey Club, and had $600 of club money in his possession during the spring meeting. Smith kept a dive, and planned with three desperadoes to rob Allen as he was on his way home from his place of business with the money. Allen was assailed and murdered with a hammer and robbed.

WITH TERRIFIC FORCE.

The Famous Express Flying Scotsman Crashes into a Freight Train.

Ten Passengers Instantly Killed—Twenty Wounded—Some Roasted to Death.

Gladstone and Ripon Cordially Receive the Representatives of the Dominion.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—A terrible railroad collision occurred early this morning near Thirsk, Yorkshire. The second section of the coast express, the famous Flying Scotsman, from Edinburgh to London, ran into a freight train at full speed at Manorhouse station. The engine of the express toppled over and fell into a field at the side of the track, followed by all the passenger coaches. The wreck took fire at once and as the passengers were, in many cases, pinned under the debris, several were burned to death. It is known that no fewer than ten were instantly killed and 20 injured, 12 of them seriously. Captain Duncan McLeod of the 42nd Highlanders, is among the killed, and the Marquis of Tweedale and the Marquis of Huntly are injured. Wrecking trains are now at work clearing up the wreck.

A Safe Precaution.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 2.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister to Washington, who has been sojourning in his native land for the past few months, sailed to-day on the Majestic for his post of duty. It is generally understood that Sir Julian's absence was timed so as to enable him to escape the embarrassment to which Lord Sackville West fell a victim four years ago, and it is hinted that hereafter it will become an established custom for Her Majesty's emissary to Washington to absent himself during the quadrennial tail-twisting process on this side of the Atlantic. Sir Julian will return to America thoroughly posted upon his government's attitude on the fisheries question, and it has been given out that Mr. Gladstone will adhere to the policy already marked out by Lord Salisbury.

Not a Vestige of It.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—Dr. McEachern, chief Dominion veterinary inspector, arrived to-day after a visit to Hamilton, London and Woodstock, from which localities were exported the cattle alleged by the imperial authorities to have been suffering from pleuropneumonia. He informed a Star correspondent that neither he nor his assistant, was able to find a trace of the disease. He has made a report to the Minister of Agriculture, and feels certain the Imperial Government will not place Canada on the schedule list. The report will at once be cabled to the British authorities.

Must Pay the Penalty.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is opposed to the release of Dr. Gallagher, Curtin and other dynamiters. The general impression is that their chances of release are remote. The matter has been debated by the cabinet in view of the intervention of the Washington Government on behalf of the Irish American prisoners. A majority of the cabinet support Harcourt. It is pretty certain, however, that the appeal from Washington will cause a relaxation in the discipline to which the prisoners are subjected.

Neill to be Hanged Privately.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The authorities have ordered that no one be allowed to witness the execution of Thomas Neill, under sentence of death for poisoning Matilda Cover, except the sheriff and prison officials. No press representatives will be allowed inside of the prison. It is probable that Neill will be hanged on Nov. 8th. The hoisting of a black flag on the jail will announce that the sentence of the law has been carried out.

Naval Reinforcements Coming.

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—About 500 jolly tars and twenty officers of the British navy arrived at Montreal Junction early this morning on the special naval train of the C.P.R. They were brought out to Halifax on the troopship Tyne, to replace the time expired men who were conveyed east by the same train last week. After a short stop the train left for Vancouver, where the men will join the Pacific squadron.

The Snub Direct.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Lord Rosebery, Foreign Secretary; Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Rt. Hon. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, and George Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland, have declined to attend the inaugural banquet of Lord Mayor Knill on Nov. 9th.

The Omnipotent C.P.R.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—The railway committee of the Privy Council refused the application of the Parry Sound Railway to cross the Canadian Pacific Railway on the level, but granted them permission to cross over-head. This comes hard on Mr. Booth, as it will cost him $40,000 extra.

Snow at Kingston.

KINGSTON, Nov. 2.—Snow fell in this locality yesterday. There is a great downpour of rain to-day, and so dark are the heavens that at noon every business house and every manufactory was illuminated by gas. It was quite a novel sight.

Most Cordially Received.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Sir J. J. C. Abbott, Premier of Canada, and Hon. Geo. Foster, Dominion Minister of Finance, met Mr. Gladstone and the Earl of Ripon, Secretary of State for the Colonies, to-day, and fully discussed the Behring Sea, Newfoundland and other questions in which Canada is at present deeply interested. The Canadian ministers were most cordially received.

The Extent of the Damage.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—A dispatch to Reuter's telegram Co. from Cagliari, Sardinia, states that the floods on the island destroyed 248 houses at San Perate and one hundred persons were drowned.

The Liberals Wins.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—The Supreme Court gave judgment to-day in the Richelieu election case, awarding the seat to Bruneau, Liberal, who is the sitting member.

Sailed on Time.

HONGKONG, Nov. 2.—The Canadian Pacific Railway steamship Empress of China sailed from here to-day, the schedule date.

RE-RATING OF WESTMINSTER.

The Waterworks Lowers Insurance—The Salmon Fleet—A Missing Man.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 2.—The re-rating of the city by the fire underwriters has commenced, now that the waterworks is completed. A prominent member of the board here says that rates will be lowered, but not so much as some people imagine.

The bark George Thompson, from Sidney, N.S.W., in ballast, arrived last evening in tow of the tug Lorne. She will load a million feet of lumber at the Brunette mills for Australia.

Bark Glengarry, 802 tons, Captain Davidson, has finished loading her cargo of salmon on the Fraser and sailed to-day. She is under charter to Messrs. Bell-Irving & Patterson, agents of the Anglo-British Columbia Packing Co.; destination, Liverpool. The cargo consists of 37,352 cases; made up of 33,137 cases tall cans, 2808 cases flats and 1407 half tall cans. Messrs. Robert Ward & Co. have shipped 3900 cases by this vessel. The cargo is valued at $186,760.

The whereabouts of Indian Mary, the suspected murdress of A. E. Pittendrigh, is known to the authorities. Indian scouts are after her, and she will be brought here in a few days. There are still no new developments in the case. The inquest will begin on Friday.

James Foster of Vancouver disappeared two weeks ago and his friends are now much alarmed. He is a contractor. On the 17th of October he came here to look at the place and arrange about cutting poles on a contract on the south side of the Fraser. He has not been seen since. There is no reason for his disappearance. He only took a rain coat with him when leaving. He has considerable property in Vancouver, is a prominent Orangeman, and members of that order are interesting themselves in the case.

NANAIMO NEWS.

Reduction at Northfield Accepted—Dan McLeod in Australia.

NANAIMO, Nov. 2.—Matters at Northfield have been amicably arranged between the new V.C. Co. and the Northfield miners. It has been no secret that a reduction was to be made in the men's wages, and everything that could be done was undertaken by the company to allow the men to remain in their present homes. The committee from the different branches of the M. & M.L.P.A. met on Sunday and, openly discussed the proposals and to their credit be it said they acted like intelligent men and accepted the reduction. It was a question of accepting or finding other homes for their families, as this mine has been worked during the dull spell in the coal trade at a loss in order that the many families might not be turned out of their homes. It is fortunate for the workmen that the company is represented here by a gentleman of such humane forethought, and while he continues in his present position it is safe to say all trouble will be averted.

The Sporting Standard, of Australia, is to hand and contains a glowing account of a big wrestling match between Dan Stewart (McLeod) and "Pickup," the great Australia wrestler, who stood off such men as Tom Cannon, Jack Conners and Duncan C. Ross. The match was for £200 a side, and Dan appears to have had an easy victory. The first fall was won in six minutes and the second fall in 15 minutes. Dan is a wonder in that country, and they think it strange they never heard of the dark horse before.

The Nanaimo schools show a large attendance during the past month and many now seem to wonder how the trustees managed before the new schools were erected. The numbers on an average attending the schools were 503 92. This number attend 11 different divisions, and of course many are now attending the district schools and are not included in the above. The health of the children is perfect.

During the past month of October fifty-nine offenders against the laws appeared before the magistrates. Of these, as usual the majority were those charged with drunkenness, 32 in all. The peace was disturbed by eight individuals; three assault cases were dealt with, and one charge of murder. There was no case of larceny during the entire month.

Mr. E. M. Yarwood received word this afternoon that Judge Walkem had granted an injunction ordering the French Syndicate to deliver up possession of the store at once to the mortagee's agents. Mr. F. Young appeared before Judge Walkem to apply for the injunction.

The October custom returns were:—

News by Mail and Wire from all Parts of the Dominion.

The Manitoba Gas Works in Winnipeg were damaged by fire.

Minister Daly is in Brandon, where nomination takes place to-morrow.

Mr. Chapleau's health will enable him to go to Halifax with the other ministers.

W. S. MacKay has received appointment to the chair of English in Macmaster Hall, Toronto.

The sailors for Esquimalt, who came in H.M.S. Tyne, left Halifax Monday evening for Vancouver.

A. E. Richards, barrister at Winnipeg, has purchased the W. H. Lyons estate, 700 lots in St. James. The price realized was a handsome one.

Ashton Fletcher, of Woodstock, has died of apoplexy. The deceased, who was aged 56, was a well-known barrister, being also a Queen's Counsel.

La Presse, Chapleau's organ, is booming the Minister of Customs for the position of Canadian Representative in the negotiation for a customs treaty with France.

The old postoffice building on Lorne street, Port Arthur, and the building formerly occupied and known as the Office Hotel next door, were both destroyed by fire.

Captain Rawlings, second in command of the St. John, N.B., police force, has been dismissed for using violent and offensive language to people on the street.

The protest against the return of Lowell, Liberal Member of Parliament for Welland, was dismissed, no evidence being offered. A counter petition was treated in a like manner.

Le Monde says it learns that the final decision of the Privy Council on the Manitoba school question has been delayed in order to permit the applicants to procure other documents from Winnipeg.

Commander Wakeham will be appointed Dominion Commissioner to act with a United States Government representative to devise a means for protecting the fisheries contiguous to both countries.

Geo. Roberts, a commercial traveller, suicided at Orillia by taking laudanum. He left a note stating that he had been a confirmed gambler for years, and that having lost all he had, decided to end his existence.

Sidney Smith, alias Adams, was arrested at Toronto on a charge of forgery, alleged to have been committed in Omaha, Nebraska. Smith consented to return and left for the United States in charge of detectives.

A rumor is current that the Canadian Pacific Railway directors have in view the construction of a line of boats for lake traffic and intend buying the Polson Company's shipyard at Owen Sound for that purpose.

C. Adamson, Dominion grain inspector at Toronto, has secured authority from Ottawa to appoint a deputy for the Suspension Bridge district, there to inspect Canadian grain intended for export via New York.

In the Rugby championship series on Saturday, Hamilton defeated Toronto by five points to one, and Osgoode Hall defeated Queen's College at Kingston by 29 points to 9. The contest for the finals will be between Hamilton and Osgoode Hall.

Hon. Edward Blake, who with Mrs. Blake left Monday afternoon for England via New York, was before his departure presented with nearly $6000 for the Irish fund, being the amount collected in Toronto since the recent great meeting in the pavilion.

The Governor-General in Council has disallowed the territorial ordinance giving the public a right to make improvements in floatable streams and charge for the use of such improvements on streams running through Dominion lands. This provision, however, will be embodied in the Dominion Lands Act next session.

County Judge Johnson, of Halifax, who recently sentenced a man to 21 months in jail for criminal assault upon three little girls, has again created a sensation by sentencing Mrs. Jane Doyle, who was tried some time ago on the charge of murdering her husband, but was acquitted, to one month's imprisonment for bigamy. The papers denounce the sentence as a travesty upon justice.

A hitch has arisen in connection with the carrying into force of the agreement reched between the United States and Canada last winter for the reciprocal wrecking on waters contiguous to the two countries. The United States wants the agreement to apply to the Canadian canals. The Dominion Government says the canals are not contiguous waters and it cannot forego control of them.

It is reported that the Dominion Government intends to submit a proposition at the next session of Parliament offering a subsidy of $750,000 for a fast mail service between Canada and Great Britain. There is at present a standing offer made of $500,000 for a service of this kind, but so far no company has been found willing to carry out the terms of the contract for this subvention. To complete this deal between the Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway it is said that the latter will purchase the Intercolonial Railway, thus giving them still greater facilities to connect the new steamship line with their transcontinental system. If all this is accomplished then it is calculated that passengers can be landed in Quebec in the summer season within five days, and in Chicago as soon as they can now reach New York.

Salvation Army Scandals.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The almost universal opinion is that the committee headed by Lord Onslow, which is to investigate the affairs of the Salvation Army, is foredoomed to failure. Many persons who would be able to give valuable information on the subject of the inquiry will not give evidence for the reason that the committee is a private one and that the witnesses before it would have no indemnification against lawsuits for damages growing out of their testimony. The St. James' Gazette to-day emphasizes this view of the case and challenges the members of the Booth family to show their faith in the vindication of their methods by guaranteeing the witnesses against any such risk. The Gazette makes the bold assertion that a member of the inner council of the Salvation Army has been the chief backer in a printing concern which is now bankrupt. Bills amounting to a thousand pounds drawn by the firm and endorsed by leading officers of the army are now in circulation. In view of this alleged state of affairs the public are awaiting developments with great anxiety, especially as the recent report of Arnold White exonerating the Booths from the charges against them had been supposed to be final.

A Busy Fire Bug.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 1.—About 8:30 this morning a well-dressed man entered the Star theatre. The stranger went up the stairway leading to the bill room, where all of the advertising matter is piled. He had hardly left the building when smoke commenced pouring into the auditorium. The flames had already obtained too much headway to be extinguished by the apparatus at hand. The room was a tinder box and the combustible material fed the flames. A quick response by the fire department, however, prevented the spread of the flames, and they were extinguished with small loss. At noon another fire was discovered in the cupola of the Water block, corner of Superior and Water streets, but was extinguished without loss. The elevator boy saw a man go up a few minutes before, and he answered the description of the man who fired the Star Theatre.

Another Trafalgar Square Campaign.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Trouble is expected on Saturday in Trafalgar Square, where the first meeting of unemployed under the new rules governing the use of the square is to be held. The anarchists threaten to attend the meeting in force and move amendments, hoping to foment quarrels and break up the meeting, thus bringing discredit upon the unemployed as a disorderly element. The anarchists have no sympathy with the moderate leaders of the unemployed who have accepted in good faith Home Secretary Asquith's rules, and will do their best to frustrate the compromise which has been agreed upon between the labor leaders and the Government.

Some Unpleasant Truths.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The Times to-day publishes a long review of American politics. It says that the Americans have no reason to be very enthusiastic over either candidate. Mr. Cleveland while president distinguished himself by a gratuitous insult to England in demanding the recall of Minister West, and President Harrison has not been behindhand in the same methods of currying favor with the omnipotent Irish vote. The appointment as minister to Chile of Patrick Egan, whose friendship with Blaine he lately boasted of in public, is enough to indicate the spirit of the administration which selected the financier of the Land League outrage campaign for diplomatic promotion.

English Versus Scotch Opinion.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The slaughter of the 1200 head of Canadian cattle, landed by the steamers Huron and Monkseaton at Dundee, began on Friday, by order of the Board of Agriculture. Scotch veterinary surgeons determined that the disease is not pleuro-pneumonia, but a non-contagious affection, the symptoms of which are similar, and condemn the Government as acting hastily. The Government has issued orders that incoming Canadian cattle be subjected to the closest scrutiny.

Excessive Moisture

PARIS, Nov. 1.—Torrents of rain and much hail fell in the south of France yesterday from the sea coast to the Bay of Biscay, the downpour being accompanied by heavy winds. At Toulouse much havoc was done and many persons were hurt by falling chimneys, and two railroad cars were blown off the track. The streets of Perpignan were so badly flooded that a number of women and children came near being drowned.

The Talk of Tupper.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Hon. C. H. Tupper, son of Sir Charles Tupper, and Minister of Marine and fisheries in the Canadian Government, arrived in New York to-day. He sails to-morrow on the Teutonic for England and will remain abroad for several weeks. He is the agent of the Imperial Government in the case of the Behring Sea seal fisheries. His mission on the other side is to present to the English Government the Canadian side of the case. It is a voluminous document. A United Press reporter saw Mr. Tupper to-day at the Hotel Brunswick. When asked to express his views on the fisheries question, he replied: "At present it would be improper of me to say what I think, or to discuss our side of the case that is to be arbitrated. It is not true, as reported from Ottawa to day, that I am going to present any evidence in rebuttal in the case submitted by the United States. My papers deal with the general legal phases from our standpoint. I expect to be away until the middle of December." Speaking about the Canadian sentiment regarding the presidential election, he said: "There is very little said in Canada about your election." "Which candidate does Canada prefer for president?" "If there is any choice it is Mr. Cleveland, because his policy is supposed to be more liberal toward Canada and its interests."

GRAND TRUNK AFFAIRS.

Some of the Shareholders Make it Lively for Tyler.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—A London cable says there was a large attendance and lively time at the annual meeting of the Grand Trunk shareholders yesterday. Sir Henry Tyler made a long and sanguine speech in which he stated as a consequence of recent changes he expected a saving of £40,000 annually.

Mr. Girdlestone, on behalf of some leading stockholders, moved in favor of further savings in the engineering and local departments and against the proposed new Toronto station as well as against the proposal regarding the taking over of the Nipissing line.

Mr. Baker seconded the motion, and urged that Mr. Sergeant, the general manager, be dismissed. He charged those behind the scenes in the company with speculation.

Sir Henry Tyler replied that the Toronto station and Nipissing line were essential, and would be profitable. It would be foolish to transfer the control of the company to Canada. A pension of £2000 had been given to Sir Joseph Hickson. It was given to keep him loyal to the company's interests. The Grand Trunk had agreed with Mr. Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific, to dismiss every official who cuts rates.

Mr. Girdlestone's amendment to the annual report was refused by 60 to 40.

Mr. Baker charged that the annual report had not really been adopted and he protested against the board's use of its proxies, while other shareholders received none.

Mr. Household declared as auditor that a miserable and disgraceful fraud had been committed in charging for proxies which were never received by the shareholders. The meeting dispersed amid loud protests, while the poll was proceeding.

Choynski the Winner.

CONEY ISLAND, N.Y., Oct. 31.—Coney Island Club had a big crowd in the club house to-night to witness the two fights on the programme. The first "go" was between a couple of young chaps, Billy Lyons of New York and Kid Hogan of Brooklyn. It was ten rounds, and they made a hard fight, knock downs being plentiful. Hogan earned three knockdowns and Lyons one. The big event of the night was a fight to a finish between Geo. Godfrey, a colored man of Boston, whom only Peter Jackson and Jake Kilrain had beaten, and Joe Choynski, the San Francisco lad who had fought Corbett and Joe Goddard. Godfrey is about 46 years of age and Choynski only about 25. The betting was $100 to $80 on Choynski. The spectators were surprised at Choynski's cleverness. He had always been known as a man with one hard hitting hand, but to-night he showed judgment and quick feet as well as fast arms. The fighting was not decisive until the fifteenth round, when both men came up looking well. Godfrey swung both hands with ferocity, but Choynski was not there either time. The Californian was a good ducker beyond a doubt. He also got in a good right hander on Godfrey's left eye. Godfrey went in like a bull in this round. By doing so he acted only as Choynski wanted him. Choynski had been waiting for this chance all the evening. The colored man was furious. He rushed in, slashing wildly. Choynski jumped away laughing, then Godfrey plunged in again. It was his last effort. Choynski met him with the right hand that had been in retirement so long, and there was no more Godfrey. The fist was planted full on the Boston man's left jaw, half way down between the chin and ear, and Godfrey went to sleep. He was clearly and cleanly knocked out.

Portuguese Savages.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Later reports concur in the earlier statements concerning the savage and barbarous treatment of the survivors and dead of the wrecked Anchor Line steamship Roumania by the natives of the Portuguese coast. The bodies of the dead, carried ashore by the waves or dragged in from the sea, were stripped of their clothing and jewels, and some of the barbarians even concealed the bodies that fell into their hands in order that they might have a chance to get a reward for finding them. Hamilton Rooke declares that the passengers were not aware of the danger of their situation, and that a strong man able to swim ashore with a rope could have saved everybody on board. He denounces the officers and declares that the vessel itself was not in the condition it ought to have been for the voyage to India.

The Deacon Squabble.

LONDON, Nov. 1—Mrs. Deacon, wife of Edward Parker Deacon, has made an apparently unsuccessful attempt to steal a march on her husband by unexpectedly bringing a suit for divorce against him. The ground of the suit is cruelty, and the petition has been lodged with the tribunal of the Seine. Mrs. Deacon is sure to come out winner in the struggle to a certain extent, whether Mr. Deacon obtains his divorce or not, as the court will undoubtedly award her part control over the children, which is the object for which she is aiming.

Judge Gresham's Conversion.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Nov. 1.—Hon. Judge Gresham admits having stated that he had determined to vote for Grover Cleveland because he did not believe in the principles embodied in the McKinley bill, and that he still adheres to that determination. Judge Gresham adds that he has voted the Republican ticket at every election since the party was organized and he thinks a Republican can vote for Cleveland without joining the Democratic party.

The Mercier-Pacaud Trial.

QUEBEC, Oct. 31.—The trial of Messrs Mercier and Pacaud for malfeasance in office was resumed this morning in the Criminal Court. Mr. Guilbault, formerly a clerk in the Public Works Department, between February, 1891, and the December following; testified that the stationery was purchased from Langlais for an amount of $1149, and that most of the other departments purchased their stationery from Langlais. When cross-examined by Mr. Fitzpatrick, the witness said that he could not say what amount of stationery was purchased from July 18th, 1890, to February 18th, 1891. Personally he could not state if Langlais had ever been paid those amounts. The accountants of several of the departments were then called, and most of them testified that they purchased stationery from Langlais from February, 1891, to the following December. All the clerks in the Union Bank were next examined but nothing of importance was elicited from them. The Crown Attorneys declared that they still had a few witnesses to examine, and as they were not present the proceedings were suspended until 2 o'clock, notwithstanding the objections of the defendants' attorneys, who complained that the case was not proceeding rapidly enough, and that the proceedings were often suspended to suit the Crown. The hearing of the Crown witnesses in the Mercier-Pacaud trial was concluded this afternoon, and Mr. Fitzpatrick delivered an able speech in support of a motion to strike out the second count of the indictment. Mr. Dunbar replied and the court took the case en delibre, adjourning till Wednesday morning.

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—There is a strong opinion that Hon. Mr. Mercier will be acquitted, and a big reception in his honor is proposed by his friends.

GREAT SUCCESS.

Great success has followed the use of Lactated Food in a wide variety of cases. It has proved to far surpass all other artificial foods, both in cases of infants deprived of their natural nutriment, and in a large number of cases of enfeebled digestion in adults—whether chronic or caused by acute disease. The reason of this superiority can be easily understood. The composition of Lactated Food is such that it yields a large amount of the most easily assimilated nutrients, and at the same time assists the feeble stomach in the digestive process.

We wish to convince mothers that Lactated Food is the best food in the world for infants. We request mothers to give it a trial; one tin will prove its worth and value. It may be the means of saving some little one from death.

If you have a baby send your address to the Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, and they will send you a full sized tin, free of cost.

A Straight Tip IS SOMETHING WE ARE ALL AFTER.
LET ME GIVE YOU ONE!

Keep away from the "Pull Me Down" Clothing, as you don't know what moths and microbes they conceal. Did you ever get a ready-made suit that gave you satisfaction? Be candid, now! Did you not find the trousers bag at the knees and transform themselves into "HIGH WATER PANTS" inside of four hours? Have you not found the coat getting torn up the back, braid falling off, with several holes in the pockets inside of six hours? Wasn't the vest sewed together with linings that you could "blow peas through?" Oh, dear! Oh, dear! I had myself at one time a suit of those things and "feelingly know how she goes." And when I brought them back and humbly complained about the moths, etc., I was satanically asked if I expected humming birds instead of moths.

How is it that those who sell "turkey stuffin'" of that kind don't take any of their own medicine? Vell, vell! Mine frent! It's because they know better. Twenty-two conclusive proofs of this on hand. I advertise nothing but what I am prepared to back up.

English Serge and Tweed Suitings, $32, $35, $37.
Scotch Cheviots and Bannockburns, $25, $28, $30, $32, $35.

Trouserings from $5 up.

A Choice Stock of Goods with HIGH-CLASS AND CLEAN, HONEST WORK are marvels in the Tailoring trade, not to be met with every day. DO YOU CATCH ON? "A hint to the wise is sufficient."

You might just as well make up your mind to get that Winter Suit now. No use putting it off any longer. Just drop in select your cloth and leave your measure, and its done—I guarantee everything else.

NO. 173.

A BY-LAW

TO ENABLE the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for the purposes therein set forth.

Whereas it is necessary that the streets and sidewalks should be maintained and bridges improved and constructed, and whereas an insufficient sum of the present year's unexpended revenue is at this time available for such work, it is therefore deemed expedient to raise a sum of money for the above purposes.

And whereas for the purposes aforesaid it is intended to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the city the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars.

And whereas it will require the sum of $1,289.00 to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of the debt and interest as hereinafter mentioned.

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria according to the revised assessment roll, for the year 1891, was $17,563,148.

And whereas it will require an annual special rate of 3-40th of a mill in the dollar for the payment of the interest and the creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal of the said interest debt, according to the Municipal Act, 1892.

And whereas it is intended to reduce the general rate so that the said Special rate shall not increase the total rate of taxation.

Be it therefore enacted by the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

SECTION 1.—It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow upon the credit of the said Corporation, by way of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same as a loan, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $25,000.00 currency, or sterling money at the rate of $4.86 2-3rds dollars to the one pound sterling, and to cause all such sums so raised or received to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

SECTION 2.—It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sums as may be required, not exceeding, however, the sum of $25,000.00 either in currency or sterling money (at the rate of $4.86 2-3 dollars to the one pound sterling) as may be required, each of the said debentures being of the amount of $1,000 or its sterling equivalent at the rate aforesaid, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation and signed by the Mayor thereof.

SEC. (3).—The said debentures shall be made payable in fifty years from the date hereinafter mentioned for this By-law to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer of the said Corporation in the City Hall, Victoria, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest, and the signature of the Mayor or of the Clerk of the Corporation respectively to the coupons may be affixed by printed, stamped or lithographed fac simile.

SECTION 4.—The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly at the office of the said Treasurer.

Sec. (3). For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures and the interest to become due thereon, an equal special rate of 3-40ths of a mill in the dollar shall in addition to all other rates be levied and collected in each year upon all rateable property within the City of Victoria during the continuance of the said debentures or any of them.

SECTION 6.—This By-law shall before the final passage thereof receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided for by the Municipal Act, 1892, and shall take effect on the 14th day of October, 1892.

SECTION 7.—This By-law may be cited as the "Street Loan By-Law, 1892."

Passed the Municipal Council this 28th day of September, 1892.

Received the assent of and confirmed by the Municipal Electors on the 11th day of October, 1892.

Reconsidered, adopted and finally passed the Municipal Council on the 12th day of October, A.D. 1892.

A LOCAL IMPROVEMENT.

Ald. Hall's proposal to extend Birdcage Walk to the sea-shore is a good one. The men who originally laid out James Bay district did not possess broad gauge views, and as a result that beautiful section is disfigured by narrow lanes, streets that end nowhere, and blocks not unlike the pattern in a crazy quilt. Ald. Hall seeks to rectify one of the blunders of the "fathers" by opening the principal street of the city, full width, straight to the sea. The expense of the improvement will consist largely of the cost of the land to be expropriated, which will be paid for on the local improvement plan. Although the expense may appear at first sight heavy on the property-owners benefited, there can be little doubt that the value of the lots fronting on the new thoroughfare will be proportionately increased, and in the end that the expenditure will be deemed by those more immediately interested a profitable one. Birdcage walk would become one of the finest residental streets in the city, and the direct road to the park and seafront would be constantly frequented by all of our citizens.

THE NEW DENVER MATTER.

After allowing itself a good long time for cogitation the Colonist comes forward with a defence of the Government in the matter of the Nakusp and New Denver road. It constructs its defence on three lines. In the first place, says the organ, the Government has found that the road would cost from $25,000 to $35,000, which is too large a sum to be taken out of the treasury without the sanction of the Legislature. Secondly, the Colonist argues that if this sum were so expended the door would be opened to further expenditures of the same kind. The third line of defence is that "it is not now known whether the road if built, at a very considerable expense, would be of much use after it is made."

So far the defence offered by the Colonist is quite legitimate, though not very strong. But why should it have gone further than this and endeavored to strengthen its case by lying deliberately about the position of the TIMES? Is it impossible for the organ to make a defence of the Government in any particular without the use of falsehood? Its repeated offenses in this line would seem to indicate such an impossibility. Whether it is from inherent viciousness, or from a sense of the peculiar fitness to be found in employing mendacity on behalf of such men as its masters, the Colonist does not hesitate to prevaricate in the most impudent and shameless manner. Witness its utterance of this morning:—"It is amusing to see the organ of the Opposition urging the Government to spend the public money without authority." Now the TIMES did not by so much as a word "urge the Government" in this way. The Colonist's assertion is, in fact, a barefaced lie. If we are wrong in saying this the Government organ will of course be able to convict us of error by a quotation from our remarks. And the same is true of this other sentence from the Colonist:—

In declining to spend a large sum without authority the TIMES knows that the Government is doing right, but instead of giving it credit for determining to act constitutionally from a sense of duty, it is silly enough to say it pursues what it must admit is the proper course to be revenged on Mr. Kellie.

The TIMES' words were too plain to be misunderstood, unless wilfully. What we said was that the Government sought revenge on Mr. Kellie by cutting down the West Kootenay appropriation last session, not by refusing to build this road. We further said that if it had not acted thus unworthily it would have been able to help in a legitimate way the Slocan miners and the people who bought New Denver and Nakusp town lots. The Colonist's habit of tergiversation is perhaps incurable, in which case we are sorry for our neighbor, because the habit is undoubtedly a serious trouble to anyone so afflicted.

To return to what may be called the Colonist's legitimate effort at defence, we submit that it is not good enough. What we said before we are free to repeat without fear of successful contradiction: "Assuming that it is right in refusing to undertake the work without special authority from the Legislature, the Government cannot then be acquitted of bad faith and blundering." The purchasers of New Denver lots bought them under the impression that the road was to be constructed. Where they got that impression we know not, but what is plain is that the Government knew that impression was abroad, and that its lots were sold at high prices on the strength of it. It is equally plain that if the Government sold those lots knowing that it could not build the road, while all the time it allowed the purchasers to nurse their delusion, it acted like a very dishonest "land shark." On the other hand, if the Government learned of its lack of power only after the lots were sold, it blundered very seriously. In any case it would have been prepared to give some measure of relief, as we have said, if it had not been so anxious to take money out of West Kootenay and put none in. And it could have had the necessary legislative authority—or at least as much authority as it usually has for expenditures on public works. Therefore we say, despite the organ's effort at defence, that the Government has been guilty of bad faith and blundering in this matter.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Canada has apparently had a very narrow escape from a serious misfortune in the shape of an embargo on her live stock in the United Kingdom. It seems that the Scottish veterinary surgeons have given a decided opinion that the disease found among the cattle carried to Dundee by the steamers Monkseaton and Huronia was not the deadly pleuro-pneumonia, but a non-infectious bronchial trouble. Probably the animals were suffering from the results of unusual exposure and hardships on the voyage. It is to be hoped that the verdict of the Scottish experts will be accepted by the Board of Agriculture, for the scheduling of Canada would cause a heavy loss to the farmers and cattle dealers of this country. British Columbia would not be directly affected by such a measure, but all the rest of the Dominion would feel the blow. Only a few days ago the United States Department of Agriculture proclaimed the complete absence of pleuro-pneumonia from American cattle herds and asked on this ground that the States be taken from the list of scheduled countries. The granting of this request would have meant additional competition for both Canadian and English stock raisers. It is not at all likely that Secretary Rusk's request would have been granted for a time in any event, but it was completely knocked out by the appearance of a pleuro case among a cargo of American cattle landed at Deptford. This incident also directed suspicion towards the Canadian animals landed at Dundee, with the resulting slaughter. The Minister of Agriculture has caused inquiries to be made in the districts whence the cattle were exported, so far without finding any traces of the disease, and it may be hoped that this circumstance, together with the report of the veterinarians in Scotland, will remove suspicion from the Canadian herds.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Probably the most "diplomatic" utterance (we mean "diplomatic" as distinguished from truthful) of the Hon. Theodore Davie, while in Ottawa, was about the new Lieut.-Governor. In the interview published by the Free Press, we read the following:

"Will Mr. Dewdney's appointment be popular?"

"Decidedly so."

Judging from the report of the Grand Trunk annual meeting, the affairs of the company have nearly reached a crisis. Hope of dividends deferred has made sick the hearts of many shareholders, and it looks very much as though Sir Henry Tyler and his fellow directors had held on to their offices only by scheming to keep proxies out of the hands of the hostile party. The auditor himself plainly stated that a fraud had been committed, since proxies had been charged for that never reached the hands of shareholders. Evidently something more than the recently devised measures of economy will be necessary to reconcile the opposition to a continuance of the Tyler regime. Sir Henry thinks it would be foolish to transfer the control of the company to Canada, but the chances are that if such a transfer had been made long ago the road would now have been in a much better position. Such improvements as have been made in its affairs were due to the greater latitude given the officials in Canada some time after Mr. Hickson became manager, and if the latitude had been made still wider, or if a Canadian board with proper powers had been constituted, the improvement would no doubt have been more noticeable. Most of what has been done toward making the Grand Trunk a paying property resulted directly from the recommendations of the staff in Canada.

HANDSOME RESIDENCES.

Modern Houses that Will be Ornaments to the City Being Erected.

Several very handsome residences are being erected on the old Gonzales farm property. They are all of the most modern style, and will be additional ornaments to the city. Mr. W. J. Macaulay's residence on Belcher street is just about completed, and will be ready for occupation in a few weeks. It will cost when completed about $20,000. Mr. Sydney Aspland is erecting a very handsome residence on the same street. It will cost about $13,000. Mr. A. G. Day's new residence, which will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000, adjoins Mr. Aspland's. The most expensive house recently erected in the neighborhood is the one just completed by the Bank of Montreal for the manager. It cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

On McGregor avenue, which runs into Belcher street, Mr. A. Boddly is building two houses, to cost $4000 each, and Mr. A. J. Toller and A. McGregor are each erecting a residence.

At the other end of the city, Mr. W. Smith, of Elford & Smith, has just completed a $12,000 brick house. It is situated on Sea View, Hillside avenue.

SONS OF ERIN.

The Irishmen of Victoria Form a Social and Benevolent Society.

The Irishmen of Victoria, irrespective of sect and political belief, gathered in Pioneer Hall last evening and organized the Sons of Erin. Fifty subscribed their names as members, and thus it will be seen that the meeting was a success. There was a little turbulence to begin with, but that soon changed and perfect harmony prevailed. Dr. Sproule was chosen temporary chairman and R. Ackland temporary secretary. The doctor on taking the chair made a short speech, outlining the object of the meeting and what it was proposed to make the society.

Mr. C. Dell-Smith spoke of the benefits to be derived from such an organization. He said it would bring the Irishmen of the city into closer acquaintance.

It was first resolved to organize an Irish association, non-sectarian and non-political; second, that the roll should be signed; third, that the society should be social and beneficial in its nature; fourth, that the society should be open to Irishmen and their descendants; and lastly, that the organization should be called the Sons of Erin.

Committees to draw up the by-laws and constitution, and make other arrangements were named. The kind offer of Mr. A. St. G. Flint to permit the use of his office at Broad and Fort streets for the place of meeting of committees, and for the signing of the roll, was accepted, and the meeting adjourned.

"Forget Me Not."

The San Francisco Examiner says of Miss Lewis in "Forget Me Not:" Jeffreys Lewis did not play Stephanie de Mohrivart last night. She was Stephanie, the pariah, the adventuress, the decoy, the gambler, the she-devil of the author's imagination. The real character stood before us in all its voluptuousness, its cool, calculating deviltry, a living, breathing, fascinating woman, with the face of an angel and the heart of a demon. This is one of the strongest, most subtle characters ever written for the stage, and it could have no truer interpreter than Jeffreys Lewis; it was perfection itself. Every instant was a revelation, every motion a study, every attitude a picture, and every look showed some new trait of this wonderful character. We have now seen the real "Forget Me Not," and never desire to witness any other artiste, however good, ever attempt it." It will be magnificently staged when it is produced here Monday night at the Victoria theatre. On Tuesday evening Jeffreys Lewis will appear as Geraldine in "La Belle Russe," Belasco's romantic drama.

Robert Burns.

The Hamilton, Ont., Times referring to Miss Howison's lecture on Robert Burns says: "Although the subject of the evening's entertainment was one with which almost every one is familiar, still the lecturer succeeded in presenting it in such an original and interesting manner as to enlist the most intense interest of her auditors throughout the delivery of the lecture, and was encouraged in her efforts by frequent applause. Her rendition of 'Man was made to mourn,' 'The Cotter's Saturday night,' 'A man's a man for a' that,' 'Lines to Mary in Heaven,' and other selections from Burns' works introduced during the lecture, showed her to be a finished elocutionist as well as an excellent lecturer." Miss Harrison will be heard in Wallace Hall, Broad street, next Saturday evening. This is a treat in store for the admirers of the Scottish bard.

THE NEW EL DORADO.

The Member for West Kootenay Gives a Description of the New Mining Regions.

Energy of the Inhabitants—Wonderful Resources—Grand Possibilities in View.

Mr. J. M. Kellie, M. P. P. for West Kootenay, arrived last night. Mr. Kellie was seen by a TIMES reporter shortly after his arrival. He has been all through the newly opened regions of Slocan, Kaslo, the Lardeau and other wonderfully rich mineral sections, and was greatly impressed by the vast store of practically inexhaustible wealth to be seen among the mountains. Mr. Kellie said:

"The whole country is coming rapidly to the front, and I can safely say inside of two years British Columbia will have in West Kootenay the richest mineral district on the American continent. The opening up of the Slocan region with its vast ore bodies is attracting the eyes of the mining world, and the ore shipments from that point alone must assume gigantic proportions, the more so seeing it is of a higher grade, and can stand considerable handling.

The Slocan region is accessible from three points. First by Arrow Lake, via Nakusp and New Denver; second up the Slocan River from the Kootenay and Columbia Railway, and third by Kaslo and Kootenay Lake. The people of Kaslo, a town of only a few months' growth, are constructing a wagon road from that point to the claims, costing over $30,000, without any assistance from the Government. This unprecedented enterprise on their part is bound to reap its own reward, and doubtless will secure to them a large proportion of the trade of the important mining region of Slocan.

A newspaper has been started in Kaslo, which, if its first issue is any criterion of what it will do to give the outside public mining information, must become a great factor in aiding in the opening up of the Kootenay mines.

Nelson has been rather quiet during the last month or two, but the sale and development of the Silver King properties will give it a stimulus and a backbone that must send it bowling along on the high road to prosperity. Few inland towns of the age of Nelson (Kaslo excepted) can show such solid improvements, and the opening of two bank branches, Bank of Montreal and Bank of British Columbia, has given it considerable prestige and importance as a commercial point.

At Pilot Bay a complete smelting plant is being erected by Dr. Hendricks and associates, that for solidity of construction and completeness cannot well be surpassed, even in the best smelting centres. In this connection a refinery is being added.

Ainsworth, on Kootenay Lake, has a number of fine mining properties and I expect at no distant day to see a heavy output of ores from this camp. Trail Creek camp seems to be coming to the front; a number of its most promising claims having changed hands, and on account of it carrying considerable gold, it is also likely to become the scene of heavy mining operations. The people there are anxious to secure the construction of a wagon road from the Toad Trail to the mines. Back of Crawford Bay numerous locations have been made but the want of a trail to allow the prospectors to get in supplies is seriously retarding the development of its claims. In Fire Valley a dozen claims have been taken up, and ranching in that valley is destined to become a paying pursuit.

Nakusp and New Denver, towns of a few months growth, have advanced considerably, but in New Denver I understand considerable dissatisfaction exists at the idea of that townsite falling into the hands of certain applicants prior to the reserve. I cannot understand why the Government took off the reserve of New Denver without also taking the reserve off the one at the head of Slocan Lake. Should the New Denver Reserve be taken off it is only fair to those who purchased lots from the Government at the sale that they, the lot purchasers, have the option of getting back their money direct. The purchasers of these lots bought them in good faith, believing it to be a permanent government townsite. I trust the government will give this question their earnest and best attention, and further, restore to the other rejected applicants what they were entitled to by statute prior to the reserve being placed.

The agitation against the Provincial mineral act is intense and widespread, and I think I can safely say that the act of '91 is not only not calculated to meet the requirements of the mining industry, but its reconstruction would be hailed with almost universal satisfaction, with the insertion of a clause making it imperative for prospectors to find mineral in place before locating, and a few other minor changes.

The finding of immense mineral ledges in the Lardeau and Fish Creek districts of exceptional size and high grade, is attracting many men of means from across the border. Americans have gobbled up Slocan and are turning their attention to gobbling up the Lardeau country, while our good Canadians, including the people of Vancouver and Victoria, are sleeping the sleep of the sluggard, totally unconscious of the magnificent prize slipping from their grasp. They will awake to find that Kootenay in five years will have scores of millionaires, and these principally non-resident Americans.

"Thank God," said Mr. Kelly vehemently, "we don't have to wait for the sleepy capitalists of Victoria and Vancouver to aid us in opening our country. If we did we would all die paupers, grey headed and withered with old age.

Lardeau, another Slocan, has been recently visited by an expert in the employ of the Rockefeller Standard Oil Co., who was struck with the wonderful showing of some of its claims. Doubtless the deal will shortly be consummated, and Lardeau become, through their enterprise and energy, an ore producer. A vast mineral belt has been traced almost continuously from the headquarters of Healy Creek, near Trout Lake, to Illecillewaet, some 50 or 60 miles of a mineral belt showing enormous ledges of wonderful wealth, carrying gold largely, and very high in silver and lead.

In the Lardeau valley south of Trout Lake a fine valley, with thousands of acres of good land, is available for the settler. The mountain slopes on each side of the valley are covered heavily with timber of exceptionally good quality. Fish Creek, rich in mineral, has thousands of acres heavily timbered.

Taken altogether the next five years should place West Kootenay in the front rank of the richest mineral regions on the American continent. Illecillewaet has some magnificent properties, which should be producing ore if the right parties had control of them. Between Illecillewaet and the Big Bend country the mineral belt has not yet been located, but I am confident that in a year or two rich mineral camps will be struck northwest of Revelstoke, as rich float has been discovered.

There is great need of Government assistance in constructing trails and roads to aid in mining development. The people do their best, and if the Government does its duty in aiding the opening up of our mining camps, in the next few years the revenue that will pour into the coffers of the Government will recompense them a dozen times for the much-needed present outlay."

Going to Europe.

Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Nelson left last night for Ottawa en route to England. They will spend several months in the British Isles and winter in southern Europe.

A Noted Educator.

Prof. G. L. Raymond, of Princeton College, who, with his wife and son returned from the Orient on the last Empress, left last evening for New Orleans. He was accompanied by his wife, his son having already departed for Chicago. The professor is one of the best known educators in the United States.

Educated Dogs.

At the Victoria theatre Prof. C. Norris' dog show will open on Nov. 5th with a matinee at 2:30 p.m. The show is well known here and the performance this year comes fully up to its previous records. There are thirty dogs in the show, ranging as usual from the mongrel clown to splendid specimens of thoroughbreds. In the performance given by them it is hard to believe that dogs have only instinct and no reasoning power.

A Pleasant Surprise.

Last evening a surprise party was given Mr. F. C. Holden at his residence, in which about twenty-six friends participated, to celebrate his birthday. The evening passed off very pleasantly with music and games and broke up at an early hour this morning. The music rendered by Messrs. Borelli and Ball was much appreciated by all present. The party was well satisfied with the surprise given Mr. Holden and the pleasure it afforded him and his good lady.

A Comedy with Fun in it.

To the lovers of farce-comedy interspersed with varieties and specialties, "McFee of Dublin" is a treat. It was presented last evening by John T. Kelly and his company of excellent comedians to a fair-sized audience, and it was funny "all the way." There is just a shade of a plot, but it is sufficient to pave the way for a world of amusement. Kelly, as a big, rough, illiterate, but "cute" Irishman, is very good. His "Irish bulls" are very funny. There is a little limber fellow in the play who walks 27 different ways, and runs about 100 different styles, who is a great laugh producer. Florrie West sings well and dances cleverly. The company includes a number of good singers and two or three above good. The piece is a happy relief from the last couple of performances to which Victorians have been treated, and a rousing house should greet the company at the farewell to-night.

In the Corral.

In the police court James Pottinger, and Abyron Sacharion were charged with being drunk, Pottinger pleaded guilty and was fined $5, Sacharion made a speech. He said he had been sick and that the medicine prescribed for his illness had the peculiar effect of going to his head. He repudiated with scorn the idea that he was drunk. When asked why he was lying down in the gutter and unable to stand alone, he assured the court that the "medicine" had a wonderful effect on the tension of the muscles and temporarily produced a muscular paralysis. Sacharion was told to forswear "medicine" and discharged.

Sang Sing, laundryman, Johnson street, charged in the police court with leaving wood in the street was acquitted. Sing proved that the Chinaman he had engaged to cut and bring in the wood was arrested by the city police on suspicion of theft, but afterwards liberated.

NEEDLESS TO REITERATE.

Dr. Davie Explains One More Point in the Duncan's Affair.

Dr. Davie was chatting with Dr. Jones in the office of Dr. Davie. Dr. Davie was smoking a pleasantly flavored cigar and Dr. Jones had made an unsuccessful attempt at lighting a cigarette. The TIMES man had entered. Both medical men took a sharp, scrutinizing look. Dr. Davie spoke:

"I have seen you before young man. What can I do for you?"

A copy of the TIMES of yesterday was handed Dr. Davie. The doctor's attention was drawn to the letter in rejoinder from Dr. Watson, referring to the Duncan vaccination incident.

"Have they not finished yet? I thought that I had given explanation sufficient for any man. I don't want to be continually newspapering on this affair. I never imputed anything against the competency of either Dr. Watson or Dr. Dickson. It is stated that they have been public vaccinators. I do not doubt it. But I maintain that in the small community in which they lived there were over 80 persons who had never been vaccinated and over 200 who received re-vaccination. I do not call that taking efficient steps. What I wanted was prompt action."

"It was to get the thing done right off," said Mr. Jones.

Mr. Davie continued: "The only statement I will make, is that the assertion that I resented the interference of a naval surgeon, corresponded with the Admiralty, and secured Government intervention, is incorrect. I deny it. Moreover, the surgeon referred to was a naval surgeon. He had not a certificate to practice here. Dr. Jones has a certificate. I have answered the other charges before. It is needless to reiterate."

U. S. S. Gedney's Adventure.

The U. S. survey steamer Gedney was successfully floated off the rocks at Portier Pass yesterday, and at 11 o'clock last night was in Victoria harbor. She was uninjured, having been carefully examined while high and dry at low water. She lost a number of anchor chains, her anchor and other articles at the scene of the wreck, and leaves this afternoon to pick them up. Immediately on her return she will leave for San Francisco, where an officer has been waiting for several days to inspect her with the other vessels of the coast survey fleet. Lieutenant Lucian Flynne, commander of the Gedney, will make a report on the accident to the department. It is said that he attributes the accident to an error on the chart. This is more than likely the case. Vessels travelling in these waters, especially war ships and government steamers, have done more to discover the dangers of them than ever the sounding line of the surveyors did. It is rather a costly way to locate rocks.

In Chambers.

Read & Co.) vs. Alexander Ewen and Bell-Irving, Paterson & Co.—An application on the part of Bell-Irving, Paterson & Co. for leave to demur to the statement of claim, although the time limited for delivering statement of defence has expired, on the ground that the statement of claim discloses two separate actions as against the defendant Alexander Ewen and the defendants Bell-Irving, Paterson & Co., and that the plaintiffs as assignees have no cause for action, with leave to plead in addition. Leave to demur granted, costs to abide the event of demurrer. Leave to plead granted if demurrer overruled.

Between the same parties—Application of plaintiffs for examination of defendants before the Registrar. Adjourned to 8th inst.

He Placed It.

A teacher in one of the Victoria public schools was giving her pupils a little talk on cholera and epidemic diseases generally the other day. She asked the class "What is a germ?" A new boy on the back benches snapped his fingers eagerly, and when the teacher said "Well, John Smith, what is a germ?" he replied "P-please, mum, it's a native of Germany." He had Hamburg down on his mind as the home of the sportive cholera bacillus.

Sliced the Celestial.

A violent pulling of the lock-up bell brought Jailer Allen quickly to the door this afternoon. A celestial with blood dripping down his face, stood on the outer side. "White butcher man kill me. Cutee, cutee," and the Chinaman pointed to two wounds on his face. "Me showee, you takee." Police Officer Driscoll accompanied the celestial, who volunteered to point out his assailant.

Messrs. Kingham & Minor are going to give Victorians a splendid chance to get Christmas presents. They are going to make extensive alterations in their store on Government street, and to get their goods out of the way during operations, they will offer jewelery, silverware and clocks at a tempting discount.

County Court.

County Court will be held to-morrow at 10 a.m. As the Chief Justice is at Vancouver, it is probable that Mr. Justice Drake will sit as County Court Judge.

St. Andrew's Catholic Bazaar.

The ladies of St. Andrew's Roman Catholic cathedral inaugurated a bazaar in aid of the building fund of the church to-day. It is being held in the old church building and will last until to-morrow night. A number of very pretty booths have been erected and a variety of articles are offered for sale and raffle. The building has been neatly decorated for the affair. A splendid lunch was served to-day from 12 until 2 o'clock. The bill of fare includes roast game and fowl and a number of other good things. Lunch will be served at the same hours to-morrow. There will be a specially arranged musical programme given each evening. A novel feature of the fair is a cantest for a gold-headed cane to go to the most popular newspaper editor in the city.

A TWILIGHT STORY.

"Auntie, will you tell a story?" said my little niece of three,
As the early winter twilight fell around us silently.
So I answered to her pleading: "Once, when I was very small,
With my papa and my mamma I went out to make a call;
And a lady, pleased to see us, gave me quite a large bouquet,
Which I carried homeward proudly, smiling all along the way.

"Soon I met two other children, clad in rags and sad of face,
Who grew strangely, wildly joyous as I neared their standing-place.
'Twas so good to see the flowers! 'Give us one—oh, one!' they cried.
But I passed them without speaking; left them with their wish denied.
But the mem'ry of their asking haunted me by night and day.
'Give us one!' I heard them saying, even in my mirthful play.

"Still I mourn, because in childhood I refused to give a flower;
Did not make those others happy when I had it in my power."
Sudden..., I ceased my story. Tears were in my niece's eyes—
Tears of tenderness and pity—while she planned a sweet surprise;
"I will send a flower to-morrow to those little children dear."
Could I tell her that their childhood had been gone this many a year?

TOLD BY A FAKIR.

The Many Tricks in the Street Man's Life.

Last evening, says a writer in the New York World, a man stood in a a buggy selling prize packages by the blaze of a huge paraffine lamp. He wore a frock coat, a shiny silk hat, clean linen, a benevolent smile and half a dozen badges.

"I've been faking for twenty years," he confided to a reporter after he had replaced prize packages with $45 and thrust it into his inside pocket.

"I've traveled the country from Maine to California," he continued, "and I know every city, town and village where there's a dollar. I either get a permit or a license at each place, and so I'm known to all the mayors and chiefs of police from Florida to Oregon. I'm 40 years old, and have been a street man just half my life.

"No, it doesn't matter what a fakir has to sell, he'll sell it if he only knows how. It's the gift of the gab, a solid front, nerve and judgment, that succeeds; and the goods have nothing to do with it. To be successful you must be grammatical, newsy and brief. If a man will only wait until I get through talking I'll have his quarter. If he goes home he misses my breezy conversation, and his wife gets the money; mine does when I go home, I know.

"In prohibition States I advocate free license, and in Chicago high license for saloons. If I strike a town where there has recently been an elopement I tell them an elopement story, and get 'em laughing. If it's a pious town I look austere; tell sober, pathetic stories, and stealthily wink at the policeman, who usually goes away and chokes. If the town is Democratic I talk Democracy, or if Republican I advocate the principles of the g. o. p. and nod to the Democratic coroner.

"Some audiences I have worked with a carriage and pair and with a colored driver. An hour later, in the same town, I am selling to a different crowd, mounted on a soap-box, with a soft felt hat, a blue flannel shirt and overalls. I sell the same goods to both crowds, but out of the carriage I get a quarter and off the soap-box I only get a dime. However, I clear as much money in an hour from one crowd as from another, as the stuff I sell does not cost me over three cents, and if I sell 100 boxes at 10 cents, and 50 at 25, I have done well, even after paying for the carriage, which costs say $2 in a small town. I handle almost every thing, but medicines pay best. I was once in a town with a big stock of jewelry and could not work it off. I thought if I only had some medicine to sell I might pay the hotel bill. I went out skirmishing and found a sawmill where they cut up a good deal of mahogany and some ebony. I got a paper bagful of the dark sawdust and soaked it all night at the hotel. We had a beautiful medicine next day, and my wife bottled it while I went to the printer's and had some labels struck off. Each bottle was the size of your little finger, and cost 30 cents a gross, the labels cost 50 cents and the sawdust nothing. I sold $9 worth at noon at 25 cents a bottle, and that night I took in $37 in cold cash. People who felt all kinds of things at noon had gone home, taken some, felt better and recommended it. See?

"The first street man I ever saw was 'Dr.' McBride, the original 'king of pain,' who resided in Chicago up to the time of his death. He made many thousands of dollars, and at one time showed me his bank book with $40,000 to his credit, but he died penniless. Gardner, the original street soap man became wealthy, and old man Clark, the pioneer street indestructible pen man, is still selling on the street at the age of 76. Charlton, the impression-paper man, became a minister, and is now pastor of a New England church. By the way, Clark the pen man recovered heavy damages for injuries received in the Ashtabula disaster in Ohio, and enjoys the distinction of holding a life-pass over the road on which he was injured. As he is now 76, it would be interesting to know how old he might have become if he had not received those injuries.

"Every lawyer and broker downtown will remember Smith, the razor-strap man, who was recently buried with Masonic honors. Prescott, the man who handled galanga root, is settled in Maine in good circumstances, but although 70 years of age, the old nomadic spirit comes over him at times and he lights his big lamps and talks at country cross-roads as glibly as ever. Biglow, the street man who sold patent medicines for years, is now connected with a very large patent-medicine house in New Haven. The original glass-cutter man was C. H. Thompson, now in the insurance business in Boston.

"Old man Dow, who made a specialty of novelties, is still on the road with a big Cheap-John notion wagon in Massachusetts, and Marvin, the razor-paste man, is practicing medicine in Boston. King still sells blacking in summer and juggles with paper at the dime museums in winter.

"As for myself, I commenced on bird whistles in the street. They cost me $3 a thousand, as I made them myself, and I whistled like Mrs. Shaw, so I readily sold one for a quarter, although now you may buy them anywhere for 1 cent each.

"After that I sold cheap jewelry—six pieces for a quarter, including brooch, ear-rings, finger-rings and a scarf-pin. Twenty cents profit on each sale! Later I sold steel pens, buying ten gross lots and carrying with me samples of pens in their different stages of manufacture. After that I sold 25-cent packages of stationery. These packages contained six sheets of note-paper, six envelopes, three Faber 'steamboat' pencils, one of which had a rubber top; six pens (brass), a nickel penholder, a pair of cuff-buttons, one collar-button, two finger rings, one gilt chain, one key-ring, six magic parlor tricks on pasteboard, a box of blacking, a bottle of ink and a bottle of mucilage, with a brush. On this 25-cent package I realized 9 cents profit, and sold the boxes as fast as I could hand out the goods and make the change.

"Notwithstanding the fact that I often cleared $20 a day, I wanted to sell something that was all profit. One day in Sarnia I saw a fakir in a carriage who talked to the people about the anatomy of the hands and feet, and offered his salve and liniment as a cure for every ailment, from a compound fracture of the ankle to corns and chilblains. From a carriage I sell at 25 cents and from a dry-goods box or flour barrel at 10 cents. In good weather I travel with a gypsy wagon. My wife dresses as a Sioux princess and plays a cornet when not playing a parlor organ. In order to get my audience interested I take a common newspaper, and, while folding and tearing it into Jacob's ladders I give them the history of paper, showing how it is made and telling how useful it is, from wrapping a red herring to bearing the death warrant of a criminal, the will of a deceased person, the check of the millionaire, or a marriage certificate. Then I give them statistics. After this I take this piece of stiff yellow paper which my wife cut out, and I juggle with it. I can turn it into over 100 different shapes, including a poke bonnet, a Parisian hat, a coal hod, a bread basket, a flower vase, a card receiver, a cruet stand and a cradle. All this catches the crowd. Then I throw the paper down and 'turn the joint,' which is fakir for opening the sale. I must have eyes, ears and mouth open at the same time. My wits must be alert, so that if somebody in the crowd makes a remark calculated to hurt my sale or make fun of me, I can reply as quickly as a flash with something that turns the langh on him. He sneaks away and my smiling but sarcastic reply brings out a deluge of quarters from those who have heard the colloquy.

"Unless you have sold medicines you would never believe what a lot of ailments people have. Some of them never suspect it themselves until they have heard me talk. In an hour in some places I take in $20 or $25, and as it is mostly profit and I'm no hog I close my sales for the day. I have a dollar to spend and a dollar to lend, and the latch-string hangs out to my friends and my wife's relatives. I've a dollar for charity, one to loan on good security, one to spend for the benefit of my family and another for my own cigars. No, never mind my name. All the first-class fakirs and most of my country customers will recognize me from what I have said."

SWISS UNIVERSITIES.

They Are Run Upon a Co-Educational Basis.

The Swiss universities are broad and liberal in the highest degree. Statutes are passed in their senates with simple reference to elevation of character and usefulness, and with no apparent thought of the sexes as separate. These statutes, when presented in council, are treated in the same spirit, and the question as to the advisability of co-education came first in every university after women had already entered and studied. The original statutes excluded no one, and consequently when—after generally a remarkably long time—women applied for admission, their names were taken exactly as those of their brothers were taken; they took their places among these and worked there undisturbed until some other consideration brought the question forward. It is difficult to see why it should have been so long after the establishment of the universities before women asked to work in them. In Zurich it was thirty-one years, in Berne thirty-eight, while Basle was disturbed first last year by the question. Lausanne, however, which just begins its career as a university, begins with women students. In Zurich and Berne it may have been the development of the universities from schools originally founded for the aid of callings as yet unthought of for women which caused the indifference on the part of women toward them. However that may be, when in the sixties women applied for admission in Zurich—the first one was a foreigner—no question was raised; she entered and took her degree. Ten years later, when so many, chiefly Russians, came with insufficient preparation, a new law was passed regulating the admission of "students" into the university, and formally recognizing women.—Flora Bridges, in Popular Science Monthly.

Waiting for Better Things.

The corner honored with the presence of the Davie building is in a somewhat worse condition now than at any time since the street was appropriated by the builders. The rich frankincense-like odor of the asphaltum boiler, perched conveniently where the sidewalk used to be, pervades the air, and if the passer-by linger longers than a moment beside the artist who wields the ladle, he will have his trousers nicely spotted for nothing. Privileges of this kind are not thrown in with every contract. Far back in other days a small inoffensive excuse for a sidewalk used to skirt the confines of the tumuli of bricks, mortar, lumber, sand, lime and so forth, but it is gone with last summer's leaves and promises to do better. The contractors and the council are responsible for the disgraceful condition of the thoroughfare, but as neither body cares very much whether the public is inconvenienced or not, the poor public will have to wait until the building is finished, when it is believed the street will be made passable once more.

Fresh Yeast.

We are pleased to tell the inhabitants of Victoria that we have just received a loaf of bread of splendid texture and sweetness, baked in the oven of an ordinary kitchen range, made with Stannard's Compressed Yeast, which is made in Victoria and will supply a long felt want. There has not been until now any yeast on this market that is always certain and easily and quickly used. Stannard's Compressed Yeast comprises each of these qualifications; it has also the advantage over any other compressed yeast that while they (when used in excess) impart an unpleasant flavor to the bread, the larger the proportion of Stannard's Compressed Yeast that is used in a loaf the sweeter it becomes. It is supplied to the grocers fresh daily and so that the public may always know that it is fresh the label upon it is stamped with the date upon which it is made. Then we are told and in belief upon good authority that it is impossible to spoil a batch of bread if the directions are followed that are printed upon the label. We know it is already used by some of the best families here and by at least one of the bakers, therefore we shall expect to see this new industry flourish amongst us. Ask your grocer for it; he has it for sale. m-w-f

Sat Upon Bismarck.

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The Deutsche Revue states, on the best authority, that in 1875 Bismarck requested Russia to remain neutral in case Germany should choose to strike the first blow in another war with France. The Emperor William, who was then in Wiesbaden, hastened to Berlin as soon as he learned of Bismarck's course in this matter, and reversed the policy of his chancellor so that further hostilities were avoided.

OR WAS IT A FARCE?

TO THE EDITOR:—One medical gentleman in town remarked to me the other evening after glancing over your locals: "Funny little comedy, isn't it? Act I. The wicked doctor joins the Board of School Trustees. Act II. All school children are required to present vaccination certificates, and those who can't—Brrrr. Act III. The school trustees meet, vote and exit the wicked doctor to the tune of 'Britons never will be slaves.' No connection between these things, of course." And then his left eyelid drooped slightly, and he laughed softly. It may have been a comedy, but it might have turned into a tragedy, and it is a good thing that a halt was called so P. D. Q.

A NIGGER IN THE FENCE.

TO THE EDITOR:—I am real glad to hear that Dr. Davie paid his expenses to Duncans and back out of his own pocket, and that he provided the lymph from his private store and did not charge anything for operating. Well, I'm sure I am real glad to read this. When folks see a doctor so anxious for the health of the citizens that he will go to trouble and expense to do what he believes will prevent disease and charge nothing for his skill, why then folks will have confidence and follow his advice. But—when I was a little wee pickaninny way down in Alabama, my old negro mammy used to say if she could not quite see through a thing: "Mis' Sadie, I'se done sure dere's a nigger in de fence." Is there a colored gentleman lurking in any of the enclosures around here?

AN OLD SOUTHERN GIRL.

DR. DAVIE ON VACCINATION.

TO THE EDITOR:—No anti-vaccinator can possibly wish for stronger proof of the folly of vaccination than that afforded by Dr. Davie himself in his examination before the Royal Commission on October 27th. Below I quote Dr. Davie's statements as reported in your issue of October 28th:

Statement 1. "The doctor mentioned a number of patients who took smallpox after being vaccinated."

2. "He had seen some men with arms that were worse than smallpox."

3. "Bovine lymph was the best when it could be obtained."

4. "It is more likely for diseases to be conveyed by bovine lymph."

5. "The best vaccination is obtained by arm to arm operations."

6. "Diseases have been conveyed by arm to arm vaccination."

7. "Smallpox is a disease that no one need have if he takes the proper precautions."

8. "Something came on the vaccine points this summer that resulted in something that medical men could not understand."

9. "The two neccessities to prevent an epidemic are a good sewerage system and a perfect water supply."

I say all honor to Dr. Davie for the above nine statements—they are all true—but from them I cannot conclude that vaccination is a wise proceeding, because:

1. Being true, it is clear vaccination is not a preventive of smallpox.

2. Being true, it is clear according to Dr. Davie that the supposed remedy is sometimes (at least) worse than the disease.

3 and 4. Being true, it is evident the innoculation with bovine lymph is often the cause of disease.

5 and 6. Being true, the same results accrue from the arm-to-arm process.

7. Being true, vaccination is unneccessary and to run the risks which Dr. Davie points out, is the height of folly.

8. Being true, it is evident the doctors understand little or nothing of the stuff they poison our blood with or the results it is likely to produce.

9. Being true, it is the right course to pursue and the proper preventive.

I earnestly commend Dr. Davie's statements and the conclusions I draw from them to all reasoning and thinking men. COMMON SENSE.

VACCINATION.

TO THE EDITOR,—I was vaccinated during the recent smallpox epidemic, and so far as I know have suffered no ill effects; but the frightful results of vaccination to be found in our city today and the conflicting evidence of our medical men on this question, as given before the Royal Commission, compel me to pronounce against vaccination and particularly against compulsory vaccination, for if I read Dr. Davie's evidence rightly he certainly aims at making it compulsory.

With your permission I will draw your readers' attention to some of the evidence adduced by our medical censor and leave them to judge of its value.

Dr. D. states that he has been practising arm-to-arm vaccination, but we all know he tried to inoculate some calves for the production of bovine lymph. And now note what the great man says before the commission. "Diseases have been conveyed by arm-to-arm vaccination but any medical man by a single look at a child could say whether the operation should be conducted or not." By a single look, forsooth! If this were really the case medical men could hold themselves responsible for the after results of vaccination, if they dared, and under such circumstances no one could reasonably object to the operation. But where is the doctor who would vaccinate under such conditions? Why J. C. Davie himself would not do it.

Further, this medical autocrat says, "bovine lymph was best when it could be obtained;" "one supposed advantage of points is that the vaccine is bovine. But then animals are subject to disease." "It is more likely for disease to be conveyed by bovine lymph, as it is more difficult to discover disease in a calf than in a child." And this after trying to cultivate bovine lymph! "I have seen men with arms worse than smallpox." The remedy worse than the disease! Still he says vaccination should be compulsory. But vaccination with what? Shall it be with syphilitic lymph or tuberculosis lymph? With bovine lymph or smallpox? On this he is conveniently quiet, but still be vaccinated—take chances.

Now, to compel a person to do that of which the results can only be known after they have occurred, and which involve conditions so serious to the individual and to the community is a monstrous tyranny, and yet Dr. Davie would do it. Our only doctor denies that freedom of action to others which he claims for himself. In his interview with your reporter, referring to his visit to Duncan's and the insulting treatment he accoded his medical confreres there, Dr. D. said he refused to give those gentlemen the lymph they asked for because it was his own, and he adds "Can't I do with my own property as I will? Why don't you ask me for my dollars and cents?" And yet he would not allow conscientious men and women to do as they wish with their own health and possibly lives.

If vaccination protects the vaccinated, they have no fear of infection; while if vaccination does not protect the vaccinated from smallpox, it is a monstrous fraud on human credulity. In either event the vaccinated have nothing to fear. If they really believe vaccination protects them, all is well; if they do not so believe there is no shadow of an excuse for forcing it upon others who do not believe.

I think Dr. Lightfoot, Bishop of Durham, put the moral question involved very justly when he said "It is better that a man should do wrong believing it to be right, than that he should be forced to do right believing it to be wrong." To Dr. D. and all other "compulsionists" I would refer this expression of the bishop's for their calm consideration. JUSTITIA.

A Well-Known Name in Canada.

A Popular Clergyman in Sabbath Schools.

The Rev. John McKillican, agent of the Canada Sabbath School Union, is known in every section of Canada. He has established thousands of Sabbath schools during his many years of faithful work and but few men have done a greater work for the religious training of the young in our Dominion.

The Rev. Mr. McKillican, who travels in all sorts of weather, often has the misfortune of being attacked by colds. At such times the reverend gentleman uses Harvard Bronchial Syrup, and quickly rids himself of all trouble and danger. He has seen fit to testify in favor of Canada's great cough remedy as follows:—

"From personal experience and the testimony of others to whom I have suggested the use of Harvard Bronchial Syrup, I can strongly recommend it."

No other remedy of modern times can so quickly relieve and banish coughs, sore throat and all bronchial affections. Every home should have it for emergencies during this change-weather. It will banish in a few hours the most obstinate cough and sore throat. If your druggist is out of it, tell him he most procure it for you at once.

WITH SONG AND STORY.

The Sir William Wallace Society Entertain Their Friends in Fine Style.

The Hallow e'en concert given by the Sir William Wallace Society last evening in Wallace Hall was a great success. The comfortable hall was filled to more than its seating capacity by an audience which bore the stamp of intelligence and respectability, as Scotch audiences always do. The programme was a splendid one, encores being insisted upon at almost every member. There was a judicious mingling of vocal and instrumental music, reading, recitations, and Highland dancing, not forgetting a capital speech by the chief, Mr. A. Maxwell Muir, whose fine eulogy of Sir William Wallace, the hero of Scotland, drew forth enthusiastic applause. The concert was a thoroughly well managed affair, and the Sir William Wallace Society has given itself first rate advertisement for future concerts under its auspices. Some idea of the grand time the audience had last night may be gathered from the following programme:

ON THE EVE OF A STRIKE.

Labor Organizations of New Orleans Determined to be Recognized.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 2.—The greatest strike that has ever taken place in New Orleans will be begun to-morrow morning. The teamsters, loaders and warehousemen who struck last week to enforce a demand that the merchants sign the tariff which they presented to them, and that they recognize the union, have failed in their object. The merchants and the "boss" draymen have been willing to sign the tariff of wages and working hours from the first, but have steadily refused to recognize the union, and there seems to be no prospect that they will yield. All the local labor organizations are members of the Amalgamated Council of Workingmen and of the American Federation of Labor, and a general strike is ordered by the council.

James Leonard, president of the Typographical Union, is also president of the Amalgamated Council, and in speaking of the strike to-day said that the unions were determined to compel the employers to recognize them, and that a general strike was the only means left them. Every branch of labor over which the council has jurisdiction will quit work and the strike will be declared off only when the merchants show a disposition to recognize the union and to trust with it. Should this occur during to-morrow the men would be ordered to return to work at once and a committee of conference would be appointed to meet a committee of merchants.

The merchants' interests are in the hands of a committee, at the head of which is A. J. O'Donnel of the firm of Glover & O'Donnel. He said this afternoon that the merchants would persist in the stand they had taken.

The mayor of the city has been applied to for the protection necessary to carry on business in face of the strike, and the entire police force which, however, is small, has been put on duty. In addition there will be a large force of special policemen paid by the merchants. There have been several assaults upon non-union men, but none of a serious character until to-day, when a number of men were attacked in various parts of the city and merchants who strove to protect them were roughly handled by the strikers. The merchants themselves have discountenanced the support of a military force and if it becomes necessary to call out the state troops there would be barely five hundred men available.

LATER—Early this morning an agreement mas made between the Employers' and Traders' Unions that the men should go to work, and that tho matter of employing non-union men should be referred to arbitration. That settles the threatened strike.

LONG DISTANCE WALKING.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—C. W. Welch, who left New York October 13th to walk to Chicago, arrived here at three o'clock yesterday morning. He says that with the exception of a few stretches on the turnpikes, he walked the whole distance on the ties of the New York Central and the Lake Shore railways. The actual time consumed in the walk was 18 days 8 hours, and this was one day and six hours better than his schedule time. He covered an average of 50 miles a day, and met with no mishaps until he reached Elkhart, Ind. There he was assaulted by a tramp and lost a few little articles in the struggle. He encountered all kinds of weather, hot and cold, rainy and dry. Welch is a native of New York City, and has distinguished himself as a pedestrian and runner.
